Some emergency shelters are just that - meant to be used once or twice when needed and then never again. The SOL Sport Utility Blanket is a different type of shelter - one that can be used as an emergency blanket one day and then as a picnic blanket the next. Use it to haul heavy loads, as a ground tarp underneath a tent, rigged as a shelter, or to cover your gear in foul weather. The Sport Utility Blanket is up to any task. Even with many times the strength of similar multi-use blankets and tarps, plus a scorching 95% heat reflectivity rating, the Sport Utility Blanket still weighs in at only 11.3 oz.

- Rugged material is ideal for moving heavy objects - from firewood to big game.
- Six metal grommets offer a variety of shelter configurations, depending on your needs.
- Material reflects 95% of body heat; bright orange exterior color makes you easy to spot.
- Use it around the house as a sun-shade, motorcycle cover, outdoor blanket, and more.
